Are you aware of the latest changes to the inspection framework and how these apply to teaching and learning? Do you know how to lead your staff to deliver outstanding teaching? Do you need some practical skills and strategies to move teaching in your school to outstanding?

This 'hands-on' course looks at the criteria and processes that school leadership will need to both understand and apply to be graded outstanding/excellent within the inspection framework. The course highlights and explores many of the features of excellent provision and will offer delegates practical and applicable examples to make an instant impact within their own schools. Delegates will leave the course with development plans which will deliver sustainable and measurable improvement in teaching and learning.
